

Green Lake Christian Writers Conference

August 22-27,
2010

Write because you can't NOT write! Come join fellow writers as they pursue their passion at the 62nd annual Green Lake Christian Writers Conference. Find rest for your soul at beautiful Green Lake Conference Center. Take inspiration from worship, fellowship and networking. Participants attend a workshop with in-depth instruction and coaching by professional presenters/writers. Optional seminars cover numerous topics and most-asked questions for seasoned and new writers alike.

Special Guest Marshall J. Cook, Editor-at-Large
Marshall will review manuscripts & meet with the writers as well as offer several programs. Recently retired from UW-Madison, he also edits an online newsletter called "Extra Innings," and is highly sought after as a speaker, seminar & workshop leader. Author of 30 books.
